

Blogger has extensive prior art material and documentation on the invalidity of the Sisvel patents. Anyone interested should send an email to bonanza@ipeg.com to get access under the conditions mentioned below.

To get access:

- 1) Receiver will be asked to sign an undertaking that he/she will need to keep all material confidential, except for use agreed by the Sender of that material.
- 2) Receiver will be asked to meet certain use and monetary compensation requirements before the material will be forwarded. The prior art material has been obtained, analysed and used by a party spending considerable amounts of money. Those investments need to be compensated.
- 3) The Receiver has to acknowledge that he/she received the material from IPEG and IPEG only, whereby IPEG does not act on behalf or with the consent of any 3rd party.

No correspondence will take place on these conditions. If Receiver is unwilling to agree to the above conditions, please do not contact IPEG.
